

- On the above example, upon logging out and logging in, the target user will no longer be able to see the “Contacts” App, but will still be able to access contact records as long as they are linked in a different menu.